Cash payouts for accidents and injuries

Flexible cover—
from £10-£65
a month to suit
your budget

Thanks to Caroline Taylor for this photo on Kaveeman as part of the 2023 National Champions Fox Grant Dot Com team. Caroline's also protected with Personal Accident cover. Photograph taken by Paul Buddin Photography - Simple Photo Shots.

Financial support with Personal Accident cover is perfect for competitive riders as injury isn't just a risk – it's a reality!

Competitive riding in Team Chasing, Eventing and Hunter Trials is high-adrenaline and demanding – which is why governing bodies encourage riders to have Personal Accident cover.

A fall or injury can stop you working, earning, and living life as normal, but with Personal Accident cover it pays out tax-free lump sums that you can use however you need – giving you peace of mind to compete at a fast pace.

Why it's so popular...

Covers competing in Team Chasing, Eventing, Hunter Trials and other riding

No medical questions, and previous injuries are not excluded

No claim excess and the price doesn't increase if you claim or as you get older

Choose between 1 to 5 units with each unit costing £10 – the more units you buy the higher the tax-free payouts

The tax free payouts are paid into your bank account for you to spend as you like

What's covered

- Tax-free payouts up to £5,000 for broken bones, dislocations and ligament damage*
- Up to £250 per day for hospital stays from an accident
- Payouts for accidental permanent injuries, disablement and accidental death
- You are covered whilst riding and around horses, at work, at home or anywhere

See overleaf for a summary of benefits

*Covered with Active Lifestyle from an extra £1 a month. Terms and conditions apply.
Rider cover in point-to-pointing and horseracing is excluded.

Simon Hanson – Protecting the People Behind the Horses

Having mucked out, ridden out, broken youngsters, foaled mares and competed, I know just how unpredictable life around horses can be – especially when you add the risks and excitement of competing.

With over 20 years in financial services, I've combined that experience with my equestrian background as a qualified Protection Adviser with TruLife Financial, specialising in helping people in the horse world protect themselves – so they can protect their horses and the lifestyle they love.

Taking out cover is simple. Scan the QR code, share your details, and I'll be in touch to review your circumstances and recommend the right protection plan from the range of policies we advise on – so you can keep doing what you love, knowing you're protected if things go wrong.
